W. O. Pipes, our esteemed and beloved principal for the past ten years, has been transferred to the principalship of Pleasant Grove High School. At his new post he will shape the destiny of what will soon become the largest high school student body in North Texas, and housed in the most magnificent plant, but nonetheless we of North Dallas feel his loss keenly.

THE SPORTS YEAR AT NORTH DALLAS

September 6, 1955 — March 1, 1956

North Dallas footballers launched an athletic year which has been one of the most successful in the school's history. After losing their two non-district games, to North Side of Fort Worth and Highland Park, the gridmen rolled over six of eight city teams. Only Sunset and Forest were able to stop the Bulldogs, while Adamson, Hillcrest, Woodrow Wilson, Pleasant Grove, South Oak Cliff, and Crozier Tech were defeated. For the first time in eleven years a Bulldog football team won over Woodrow Wilson as the Wildcats fell 18 to 6. North Dallas collected 129 points during the season.

Paced by seven lettermen North Dallas trackmen are among the best in the city. Coach B. C. Hays' thinly-clads are tops in relay events and figure to be strong in other departments. Bulldog cindermen have carried off two city titles and two regional crowns in the past ten years.

Bulldog tennis players hold a split with title favorite Hillcrest and are capable of winning the city title. Woodrow Wilson was defeated in an early season practice match.

City golf teams may have difficulty beating a rapidly improving Bulldog squad. North Dallas linksmen could finish high in the district race.

The North Dallas basketball team of 1956 enjoyed one of the most successful seasons in the history of our school. The team, competing in twenty-seven games against high school opponents, won twenty-five games and lost two. The Bulldogs defeated Waco, Amon-Carter Riverside (twice), Pittsburg, Sulphur Springs, Woodrow Wilson (three times), Marshall, Carrollton, Handley, Sunset (three times), Crozier Tech (three times), South Oak Cliff, Forest, Adamson, Hillcrest, Pleasant Grove, Ft. Worth Polytechnical (twice), and Odessa. The losses were in the opening game of the season to Waco, and in the State championship finals to Laredo. In addition to the preceding games against high schools, the Bulldogs split even in two games with the Woodard Motor semi-professionals. Along the route of the twenty-five victories accumulated, the team won the annual Sulphur Springs Invitational Tournament and the annual Dr. Pepper Cotton Bowl Tournament. After winning only the second city championship in the history of North Dallas, the team met for the first time a bi-district opponent, Ft. Worth Polytechnical, and defeated them 79-82 at Dallas, and 56-45 at Ft. Worth. These wins advanced them to the State Championship Tournament at Austin, where the Bulldogs defeated Odessa's Broncs 81-60 to break the state play-off record for scoring by one team in a single game. The team was defeated 65-54 by Laredo in the championship game which was televised for the first time throughout the state. Allen Harris and Bobby Smith were chosen members of the first team all-state tournament team; and Smith made All-State. Bobby Elder and Smith were all-tournament at Sulphur Springs, and Smith also was an all-Cotton Bowl tournament choice. Elder and Smith were also all-city selections. The reason for the success of this team may be traced to desire lack of selfishness, unity, and team balance.

NORTH DALLAS RIFLE TEAM

Sgt. Garrison admires the team's sharp-shooting. The team comprises Dick Adams, Larry Carder, Charles Feuerbacher, Maurice Howell, Lance Simmons, Wesley Coggins, and Barry Hesker.

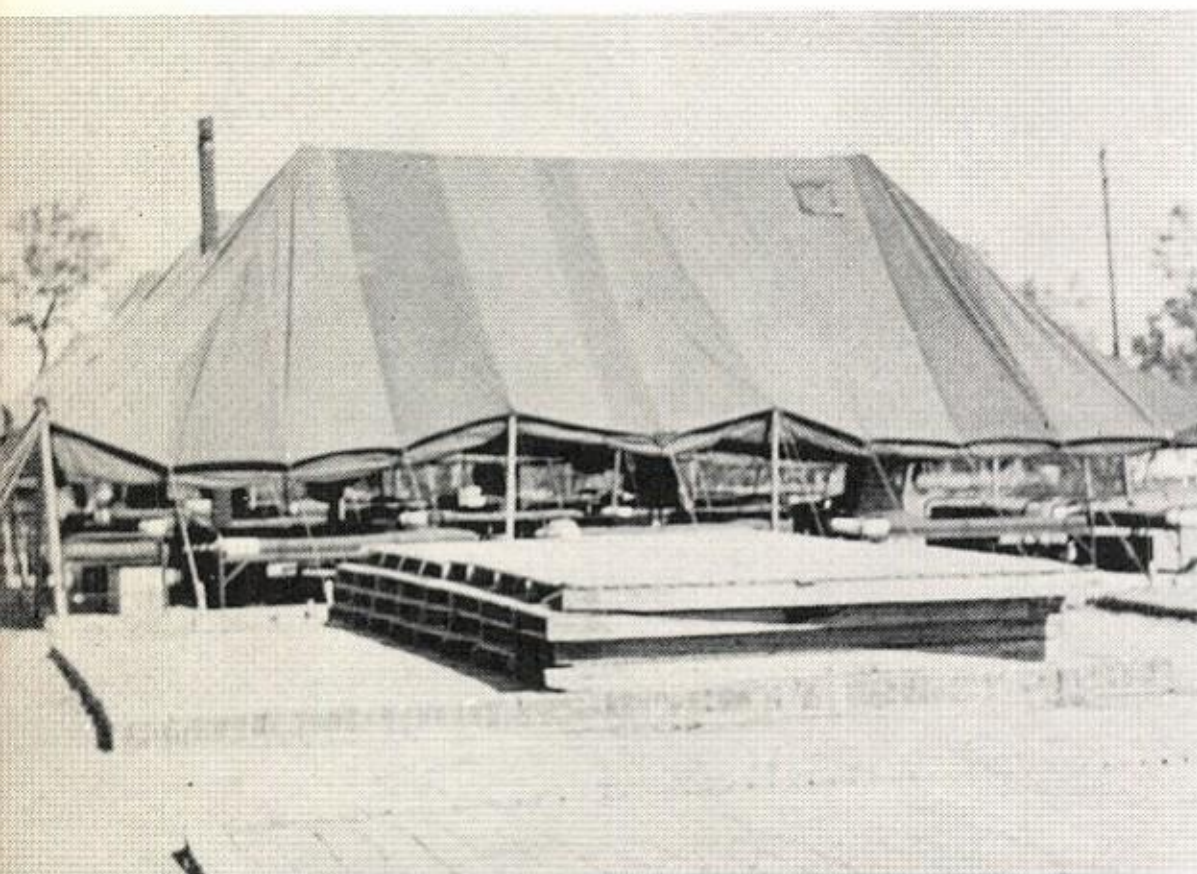

The team is in hopes of bettering its last year's record of eighth in the nation.

Charles Penn, captain, and Sgt. Garrison, sponsor, look over the results of the day's firing.

CAMP DALLAS COMPANY 1955

The First Provisional Regiment Camp Dallas was cited for outstanding performance of duty and extraordinary bravery in the face of severe electrical, thunder, wind, rain, and hail storms in the vicinity of Mineral Wells, Texas, during the period of June 4, 1955 to July 1, 1955, and each cadet was awarded a Distinguished Unit Citation.

Before . . .

These pictures taken after the storm show that the boys really earned that Distinguished Unit Citation.

The plebes know—revenge is sweet!!

Bill Whitney learns his lesson—the hard way!

John Kershaw and Larry Austin were caught napping—with disastrous results.

Norman Wood, 3rd Battalion Commander, instructs the company commanders.

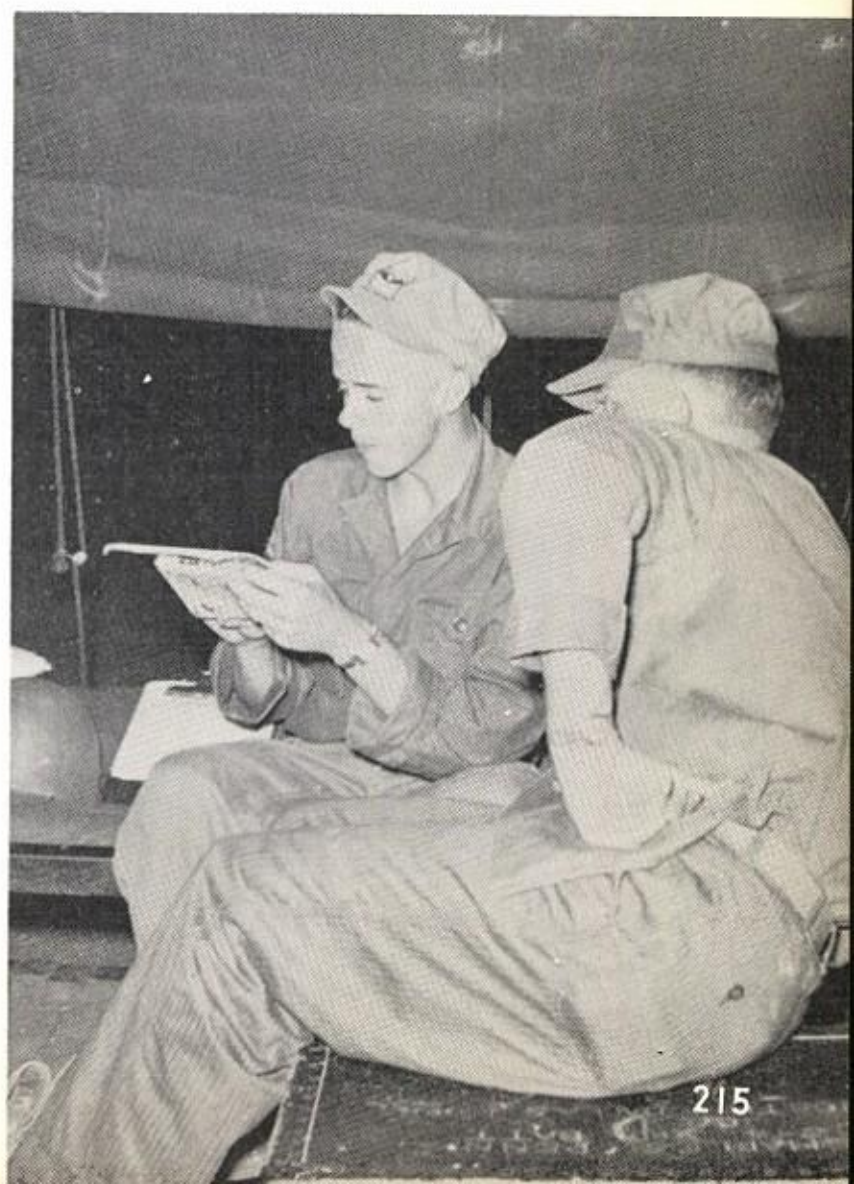

Tom Bredlow and Errol Phillips admire the inspection ribbons won by Company "I."

What happened, Cecil?

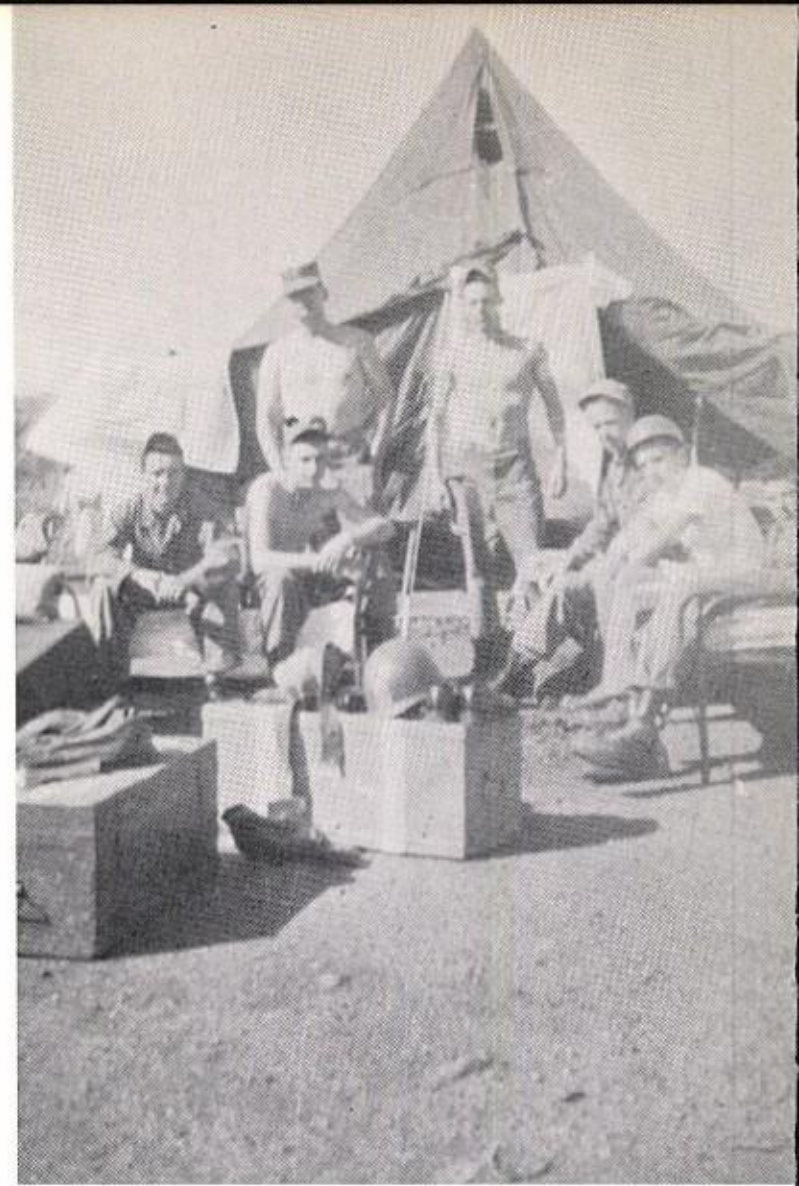

Dear Honeybear . . .

Company I "goes home" after a class in tactics.

The Company I hams pose for the VIKING camera.

After a hard day the cadets soothe each other's nerves at the nightly sing-song.

ABOVE AND BEYOND THE CALL OF DUTY

Beth was stricken with polio last June shortly after outlining this section of the book and getting models for the color picture. During her first days in the iron lung, Beth was concerned not over her own critical condition, but rather with the progress of the Viking.

Beth has continued her editorial guidance and her scholastic work from Warm Springs, Georgia. She will undoubtedly graduate with her class with honor.

We of the Viking staff have been inspired by Beth's enthusiasm, her bravery, and her unfaltering happiness.

THE FLAG AT HALF-MAST

Mr. E. B. Comstock, the first principal of North Dallas High School, died April 4, 1956, after all but the last few pages of the Viking had gone to press. The following biographical sketch and editorial are reprinted from the Dallas Times-Herald.

Funeral services for Ernest Bernard Comstock, 6218 Bryan Pkwy., a prominent Dallas educator who died in a Dallas hospital Wednesday, will be held at 4 p. m. Friday in Ed C. Smith & Bro. Chapel. Burial will be in Restland Memorial Park.

Mr. Comstock, 77, was born in Riga, Mich., and was a graduate of Oberlin College in Ohio. He came to Dallas in 1914. He retired from the Dallas Independent School District in 1949 as assistant superintendent in charge of high schools. He had been state director for Scholastic Magazines of New York City until his illness five weeks ago.

He edited the Bonham News for three years before coming to Dallas, when he became a teacher at old Bryan Street High School for two years, then at Forest Avenue High School for three years. He served three years as principal of Fannin Elementary School, and was first principal of North Dallas High School when it opened in 1922, a post he held until 1945 when he became assistant superintendent.

SERVED CHURCH

Mr. Comstock was a member of Central Congregational Church, where he had served as Sunday school superintendent, chairman of the church council, trustee and deacon. For many years, he taught the church's Men's Bible Class, which was named for him at the first of this year.

With genealogy as his hobby, he was a fellow of the American Institute of Genealogy and had published several pamphlets and books on the subject: History of the Comstock Family, 1938; The Harroun Family in America, 1942, and with Mrs. Grace Vrooman Wickersham of Alaska, The Vrooman Family in America, 1949.

He was a founder of the Dallas Chapter of the Sons of the American Revolution, a past state governor of the Society of Mayflower Descendants in Texas, a past president and life member of the Texas State Teacher Association, a 32nd degree Mason of Tannehill Lodge, a member of the Dallas Red Cross Chapter and delegate to the national convention around 1946.

Mr. Comstock introduced the driver training program in Dallas schools and served as the school representative of the Citizens Traffic Commission for many years. He organized and, with Mrs. M. B. Terrill, wrote the first text for the Bible credit courses offered through Dallas schools and churches.

Around 1917, he organized the first daily vacation Bible school in the city, at Central Congregational Church.

Mr. Comstock was married Dec. 21, 1906, to Miss Madge Barnes. Survivors are his wife; a son, Edwin Barnes Comstock of Dallas; two daughters, Miss Doris Comstock of Dallas and Mrs. Gerald B. Huff of Athens, Ga.; four grandchildren; two brothers, Raymond J. of Toledo, Ohio, and Harold W. Comstock of Sylvania, Ohio.

Rev. Arthur G. Swartz, pastor of Central Congregational Church, will officiate, assisted by Dr. J. T. Carlyon, a former pastor of the church.

Pallbearers will be C. C. McCredie, J. C. Oehler, S. Stanley Knapp, W. T. Tardy, F. M. DeLany, Charles L. Ford. Supt. W. T. White and other officials of the Dallas schools, and members of the church council of Central Congregational Church will be honorary pallbearers.

FOR "MR. NORTH DALLAS"

E. B. Comstock

WHEN E. B. COMSTOCK, Dallas educator, who died Wednesday, was graduated from Oberlin College in 1905, he became a public school teacher.

Mr. Comstock probably thought he would teach awhile and go into a more lucrative field. Even in those days teaching was not a method of getting rich. But he was soon made a high school principal, and he remained in the public schools until he retired in 1949 at the age of 70.

Since he was a man of unusual executive ability, Mr. Comstock probably would have become wealthy if he had entered business or industry, but he gave his life to education. He devoted his executive talent to the training of youth and to the supervising of teachers.

Fortunately for Dallas, Mr. Comstock came to this city in 1914. He taught at old Bryan High School and at Forest High School, and was principal of Fannin Elementary School. He was the first principal of North Dallas High School, and later became assistant superintendent.

During Mr. Comstock's long tenure in Dallas he saw hundreds of the pupils under his jurisdiction finish school and go out and achieve success in many lines of endeavor. He was a just man, but he was no coddler of recklessness in youth. Many of the youngsters who passed under his sway learned to respect him and lived to thank him for his strict discipline.

Mr. Comstock did not accumulate wealth or become famous. He earned far more than he was ever paid in money for his services, but he merits high rank among Dallas city builders and philanthropists. He did not build skyscrapers but he laid the foundation for them. Measured by the usual standards, his reward seems small, but it is doubtful that he could have, in another field of activity, got more genuine satisfaction out of life than he derived from his work as an educator.

It was our privilege to be associated with E. B. Comstock, since the fall of 1922.

North Dallas High School had officially been opened only a short semester, but we realized immediately that we had become part of a mature institution; that by some alchemy a pile of brick and mortar and steel had been converted into a dynamic force in secondary education.

All the pupils were underclassmen, hence there was no yearbook that first year. It goes without saying that no lettermen in other schools cared to jeopardize their standing by playing on a team without a chance of winning. We lost every football game that first season, but there is doubt that the public was conscious of our losses. Our ambition was to score a touchdown in each game. We usually managed to do so. Then came the inevitable snake dance up Elm Street. Ours were not physical victories but they were assuredly moral.

Mr. Comstock was a silent partner in fomenting this enduring school spirit. Coach Jack

Wilson and assistant coach-manager Ewell D. Walker—this was six years before the birth of Doak—, aided by the girls' physical education director, Mary Belle Smith, kept our enthusiasm at a high pitch.

E. B. Comstock stood for sound scholarship. North Dallas graduates early brought renown to the school by their records in colleges and in professional and vocational callings.

As an administrator, Mr. Comstock affected a stern exterior, but the veneer was too thin to conceal completely a heart as big as all outdoors. He had an abiding faith in a glorious destiny for the school. To him North Dallas students and teachers were a superior race. So zealous was he in this belief that his charges tried to justify it, and in the attempt approached the goals set by the dreams and aspirations of MR. NORTH DALLAS.
